PRAYER OF CONFESSION

God of restoration and wholeness, you are the One who brings life even when all seems lost, though we have questions about your timing and priorities. We confess we have mixed feelings about those whose illnesses linger. We're unsure how to treat them, and it's so easy to judge their faith. We confess that we have offered platitudes and cliches instead of comfort and companionship. Forgive us, Lord, for our hard hearts. Forgive us and restore us to wholeness—the kind that brings normal life to those who have suffered long. We ask in the name of Christ whose healing power is for all. Amen.

PRAYERS OF THE PEOPLE
COMMUNAL PRAYER

Life-giving God, where there is fear, touch our heart with your peace. Where there is illness, may your hand bring relief. Where there is grief, let your living word be a guide through the shadowed valley. Where there is suffering, may your healing bring restoration. Walk among us, O Lord, and let us feel the brush of your cloak, the grace of your presence, healing all that harms us. Walk among your people, O God, and call our to your children, re-creating your family, and binding us together in compassion and love. We lift up our neighbors in need. Make your healing real to them today, O God, and bring them to the blessing of ordinary days. We pray these and all things in your holy name, Amen.
